MACKVILLE LOCAL OF EQUITY LEAVES THE STATE SOCIETY

MACKVILLE FARMERS WILL NOT PAY DUES TO STATE SOCIETY
UNTIL IT IS INCORPORATED

TITTEMORE IS PANNED

President of Wisconsin Union
Branded as "Passer of Buck" and Inefficient by John L.
Johns of Kewaunee
Union

Not only did J. N. Tittlemore and his associates in the Wisconsin Union of the American Society of Equity receive the panning of their lives at the Mackville local meeting last evening, but the Mackville farmers unanimously voted to secede from the union. John L. Johns of Algoma, a farmer and one of the best speakers in the county, was the speaker and he conducted what purported to be a complete expose of the unbusiness-like methods alleged to be in use in the conduct of the state union's affairs. His main bone of contention was the alleged fact that Mr. Tittlemore and his staff officers had "passed the buck" for several years with reference to the incorporation of the state union, the incorporation of local and county organizations as well.

In opening his speech, Mr. Johns read a number of excerpts from the Equity News, the official organ of the badger organization, most of which were written by Mr. Tittlemore himself. These articles urged the incorporation of Wisconsin union and the placing of it on a sound business basis. A copy of Mr. Tittlemore's message so far as to contain a diagram of the proposed state-wide organization, and a sample set of articles of incorporation. Mr. Johns also read letters he had received from the state official in which his every expression was for hasty and complete establishment of a firm business basis for the Equity.

The stand which these documents advocated, the speaker stated, was exactly in accord with his ideas; in fact, he had been instrumental in formulating many of the plans himself. He declared, however, that all this had proved mostly talk, and that every time a definite move was made along the lines urged, the action had been blocked by skillful maneuvering on the part of Mr. Tittlemore or some of the other officials. It was apparent from the statements of Mr. Johns that he had started to wage an active campaign in behalf of saving the state organization from its supposed trend toward bankruptcy, after realizing the situation that existed, and that, as a result, he had been bitterly attacked by a second Jeff Davis because his home local cut loose from the state union and announced its intention of operating independently until such time as the affairs were put on a business basis and operated, he stated, by business men.

"When I saw that the county convention in Appleton did nothing to remedy the existing conditions, I thought it was time the people woke up," said Mr. Johns. "The society was operating like a big circus. Outside are the barkers and the gay posters, and you naturally expect to see something when you get inside. Big things were claimed by our society and on the inside there was nothing to be seen. We were past the big show state. Every suggestion given out by the state union is of things you have already done."

The speaker then went on to show that all the farmers had ever received in return for their dues of $2.50 per year was the Equity News, and even that, remarked C. B. Ballard from the floor, "wasn't much good news." He contended that the only way the dues had been paid for was by the state officers for officers whom he had branded as incompetent to run a business organization. He quoted figures showing that in the membership campaigns conducted by the state organizers, the average cost of getting the members was from $7.50 to $9.00 each, and that the expense was also asserted that the constitution of the national constitution had been omitted in formulating the state constitution, especially where a specified per diem and expense allowance were specified and where the incorporation of locals with stock in the county union, and the county union holding stock in the state union was specified.

"If the proposed articles had been carried," Mr. Johns said, "we would not have been in the mess we are today. I am through with this bunk. We have been fiddling for three years and somebody has to pay the bill. I decided I wasn't going to pay it. The Equity is founded on principles of justice and co-operation, but ours has been turned into a political arena and abused so its own creators wouldn't recognize it today."

The danger of not incorporating was emphasized by Mr. Johns who said that if the state union continued to go into debt, the present loose organization would make every member of the union liable for a proportionate share of the debts. By incorporating, however, the liability of each member would be limited only to the amount paid in for his shares of stock.

What Kewaunee county had done in protecting itself and operating on a business basis was fully outlined by Mr. Johns, and recommendations were offered for so organizing here so that an efficient, safe and business-like organization would be created. The organization of a Chautauqua was warned against, for it might be handled, he stated, for the promotion of a political campaign for some officer.

The climax of the meeting came when a resolution was unanimously adopted to the effect that the Mack-

Young Woman's Jekyll and Hyde Life Exposed

Chicago Girl is Harness Shop Book-keeper by Day and Social Butterfly by Night—Books Found to be Short $10,000

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Feb. 3.—Frederick C. Biehl, leather dealer announced today he will go to Winnipeg to induce his pretty bookkeeper, Rose Schweiburg, to return to Chicago to face an embezzlement charge.

He and Joseph T. Hass, the detective who discovered that Miss Schweiburg, "perfect bookkeeper" and "Monda Rose," society butterfly, were one and the same, will go armed with extradition papers to be used in event Miss Schweiburg resists.

Several days ago Rose was missed from her $25 a week stool at the leather company. At the same time, "Monda Rose," goddess of the young-feminine set, disappeared from her luxurious apartment. Miss Schweiburg was demure and added figures all day. Her mother was poor and worked in a box factory. "Monda Rose" apparently was rich. She had a chummy roadster and a saddle horse worth $1,500, both of which she left here.

A few days after she disappeared, Rose's employer discovered a shortage in excess of $10,000. It may reach $50,000, he said today. Detectives then traced Miss Schweiburg to Monda Rose's apartment.

A telegram which she sent her employer from Winnipeg saying "I am going to eastern Canada to be married" led to her arrest in Winnipeg last night.

It was said Miss Schweiburg decided to leave when an auditor was put on her books. She never came back.

BRITAIN PLANNING TO GAIN CONTROL OF AERIAL ROUTES

COMMERCIAL AIR SUPREMACY
NECESSARY TO GAIN CON-TROL OF AIR IN WAR,
LEADER SAYS

By United Press Leased Wire
London.—"Britannia must rule the air as she rules the waves," was the slogan sounded by Major-General Sir Frederick Hugh Sykes, controller general of civil aviation, before the meeting of the royal geographical society here last night.

High officials of the government, including the Prince of Wales and Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary of state for war, attended the meeting.

Outlining the British air policy, Sykes predicted the next war will open with a battle for supremacy of the air. Attack and defense will be given by air strength, Sykes declared.

Commercial airplanes, the controller-general pointed out, may more easily be converted into bombers than merchant water craft may be made into war vessels. Thus, he argued, commercial air supremacy is necessary to insure war supremacy.

Sykes emphasized the necessity for "all British" air routes, revealing that the British now have a secret, systematic plan for mapping the world's air lines, especially routes from England to Egypt and Cape town.

Several planes will be started over this new route in the near future, he said.

Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, General J. E. B. Seeley, assistant minister for air, and Air Marshal Hugh Trenchard head the movement.

HUGE PROFITS CHARGED AGAINST CHICAGO BAKERS

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—Master bakers here are making $20 to $22 profit a barrel on flour, officials of the bakers and confectioners' union declared today.

The Chicago Federation of Labor, upon the plea of the bakers, went on record against the increase of one cent a loaf, which became effective here yesterday.

"Bread should decrease instead of increase," bakers' delegates declared. "We are the real bakers and we know."

ville local would pay no more dues to the state union of the Equity society until the union was incorporated and on a firm business basis and run by business men. They also voted to incorporate and appointed a committee of Charles Schroeder, Phil Hoffman and W. H. Wiekert to proceed, the capital stock being placed at $100. Albert Brockman was elected to proceed with further organization of the farmers of the county. Mr. Johns predicted that similar moves would be made in other parts of the state unless a quick change came about in the alleged unwise methods pursued by the present incumbents at Madison.

24 NEW CASES OF FLU REPORTED IN APPLETON TODAY

DRASTIC MEASURES ARE CON-TEMPLATED IF INCREASE IN FLU EPIDEMIC
CONTINUES

MUST REPORT PROMPTLY

Doctors Are Instructed to Make Complete Reports Daily to Dr. H. E.
Ellsworth, Health Officer—
U. S. Taking a Hand

The reports made to Dr. H. E. Ellsworth, health officer, today indicate that the influenza has taken a sharp, presumably because of the mild weather. Up to a late hour in the afternoon, 24 new cases had been reported, just double Monday's total. Out of all the "flu" cases reported to date, ten have developed into pneumonia, one death having resulted. Dr. Ellsworth states that the return of colder weather today may start the sickness on the decline again, but on the other hand if today's figures are indicative of a greater spread of the disease, steps will be taken to close up some of the public gathering places, probably coming first. He expects to take no action of this kind this week, however. Doctors having cases that develop into pneumonia are asked to report the fact to the health officer.

A telegram received by Dr. Ellsworth from Dr. A. C. Harper, state health officer, Madison, indicates that the government is now taking an active hand in fighting the wave of influenza sweeping over some sections of the country. In the message, he is instructed to wire the health department at Washington every night giving the number of deaths from all causes, and in addition the number of deaths both from influenza and pneumonia. Once the death toll is apparent to the officials, it is thought that Congress will take drastic action to prevent further ravages, and perhaps to find a preventative.

In answer to the contention of a number of prominent business men that the reports given to Dr. Ellsworth do not portray the actual amount of sickness now extant, the doctor states that the main reason rests in the fact that mild cases are cared for in the home without summing a doctor. Whenever a doctor is called the case is reported. Asked if all physicians were reporting promptly, Dr. Ellsworth added that all but a few comply strictly with his ruling. These few, he remarked, do not comply promptly, although every case is finally recorded. His admonition to all physicians is to telephone the number of new cases as the doctor begins five days late and in violation of the law. The result in this case, through the failure of the doctor to telephone, was that the house was not placarded. Future violations should be guarded against, warns the health officer. He also reiterates his warning that no funeral services where death was from pneumonia may be held in any church or public building, and that in all cases these funerals must be strictly private, only members of the family being present.

Milwaukee.—A sudden increase in cases of flu at Fond du Lac has moved authorities there to place a ban on dances, basket ball games and other public entertainments. School and movie attendants are required to occupy alternate seats.

At North Fond du Lac the schools have been closed for a week.

Reports from Madison indicate that for 123 communities in the state, the board of health enumerated 2,540 cases of influenza, 59 of pneumonia, one death from flu and 26 from pneumonia.

Influenza here has taken a marked slump. Twelve cases were reported Monday, four deaths and 1,404 recoveries, leaving 649 cases.

MOTHER TELLS I. W. W. SON TO TELL TRUTH

By United Press Leased Wire
Montesano, Wash.—A mother's counsel will play a part in the trial of eleven I. W. W.'s here on charges of murdering American legionnaires at Centuria, Wash.

"Stick to the truth, regardless of what happens," Mrs. Edna Roberts told her boy, Loren Roberts, one of the defendants.

Mrs. Roberts was the first woman to accept the privilege of sitting within the railing with her son. Other wives and mothers were to join the eleven men today.

Trial officials still struggled with the formation of a jury today. A strenuous effort by the defense to quash the entire venire because of alleged irregularities in its assembling, met failure.

CHICAGO DOCTOR DIES OF FLU IN MILWAUKEE HOTEL

By United Press Leased Wire
Milwaukee.—Dr. Arthur Schulz, Chicago physician found dead in his room at a local hotel Sunday, died of influenza, according to physicians who conducted a post-mortem examination here.

Police had charged that Schulz committed suicide to escape arrest for alleged violation of the federal narcotic laws and for practicing medicine in Illinois without a license.

President Has Narrow Escape From Influenza

Wilson Contracted Cold and His Physicians Exercise Extreme Caution
In His Treatment—His Recovery Is Rapid

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—President Wilson recently narrowly escaped an attack of flu, it was learned at the White House.

The president, Dr. Grayson declared, contracted a slight cold during the inclement weather of last week and for a time abandoned his daily practice of sitting on the south porch of the White House for an hour each morning. Dr. Grayson is exercising the greatest care in barring from the sick room any attendant whom he suspects of being a carrier of the influenza germ.

Wilson is continuing to improve, however, Dr. Grayson said, and has resumed his little trips outdoors, and is also walking for a longer period each day.

There is little or no likelihood of the president going on a trip for at least another month, it is stated. His physician declares that as long as his improvement continues satisfactory he will not advocate his leaving his comfortable quarters at the White House and embarking upon a long trip by rail or boat which might prove to treat a tax upon his strength.

CULMINATION OF ROMANCE OF TWO WOMEN IS NEAR

EMILY KNOWLES ACCEPTS MAR-RIAGE OFFER OF BROTHER OF HER CHILD'S FATHER

By United Press Leased Wire
Fall River, Mass.—Sate in the home of her cousin, Miss Emily Knowles, leading figure in a war romance with an American aviator, rested today and cared for her four months old baby son.

In the same home Guy S. Spiker, of Baltimore, brother of Perley Spiker, the aviator, who has offered to right by marriage what he terms the wrong his brother has done, was awaiting the next development in the unique situation.

Miss Knowles and her baby, accompanied by Spiker and her attorney reached here today from New York. They went at once to the home of Mrs. William Battersby, Miss Knowles' cousin. Mrs. Perley Spiker, wife of the man who admitted in an affidavit that he is the father of the baby, did not come to Fall River. She is, however, steadfast in her desire to adopt her husband's baby, according to Miss Knowles and Guy Spiker.

It was stated at the Battersby home that Miss Knowles has definitely accepted Guy Spiker's offer of marriage. Further, it was intimated that marriage might take place today, though no definite statement to that effect was forthcoming.

Neighbors of the Battersbys were highly interested in the arrival of the little party today. Faces peered from behind shutters, and several windows were found to be required their presence in front yards or on porches at just the right moment. Both Miss Knowles and Spiker were in gay spirits when they arrived.

SOCIALISTS TRY TO DESTROY LABOR BODY

EVIDENCE IN SOCIALIST TRIAL IN NEW YORK TENDS TO SHOW
A "BORING FROM WITHIN"

By United Press Leased Wire
Albany, N. Y.—The socialists are "boring from within" in the American Federation of Labor in an effort to seize control of that body and employ it as a lever to overthrow by force and violence existing social, economic and governmental institutions in the United States, according to evidence introduced this afternoon in the hearing of five suspended socialist assemblymen.

The statement was made by Peter W. Collins of Boston, whom the judiciary committee accepted as an expert on labor and socialist problems. He was connected with organized labor for 20 years and frequently held public debates with socialist leaders.

The testimony of Collins proved to be the first approaching the "sensational evidence" which the committee had promised in the three weeks of the proceedings. Among the statements made by the witness was that socialism, communism and bolshevism are synonymous. He characterized trade unionism as "constructive" and socialism as "destructive."

He further emphasized the difference between the two movements by asserting that organized labor believes capital has a legitimate function, whereas socialists are pledged to abolition of all capitalism.

DANIELS DENIES DECORATIONS HURT MORALE OF NAVY

SECRETARY OF NAVY ASSERTS THAT SIMS' STATEMENTS
ARE INSULT TO AMER-ICAN NAVY

BRAVE MEN UNRECOGNIZED

Recommendations Failed to Include
Hundreds of Officers Who Performed Feats of Heroism
Daniels Tells the Committee

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Admiral Sims' charge that the morale of the navy's shattered by the alleged injustice of medal awards is "an insult to the splendid men of the navy," Secretary Daniels declared today, testifying before the senate naval committee in its investigation of medal awards.

It is an insult to the splendid men of the navy to say that the morale of the navy could be seriously impaired by any awards to individuals," said Daniels. "They are made of sterner stuff than to be rattled by a matter so unimportant in comparison with their devotion to their duty," he said.

Enlisted men in service in the war zone were "largely overlooked" in recommendations for naval decorations made by the Knight board of awards, Daniels told the committee, explaining why he revised the list.

Only 22 per cent of officers on sea duty in the war zone were recommended, he said.

"I was astonished to find that only 119 enlisted men out of the 500,000 in the navy during the war were recommended for any high honors," said Daniels.

Daniels read a lengthy prepared statement, taking issue with Sims on the medal awards and defending his course in changing the recommendations of the Knight board.

He cited historical precedents in support of his contention that it was justifiable to give medals to commanders who lose their ship in action. Records of foreign navies were read by him to show that, in the present war, medals had been given to commanders whose vessels were sunk.

He answered Sims' criticism of the award of a medal to Lieut. Isaac, of the transport President Lincoln, who was captured by the Germans after the ship had been torpedoed. With regard to Sims' charge that Daniels hinted a medal should be given to his brother-in-law, Commander Worth Bagley, of the destroyer Jacob Jones, Daniels declared Sims' high praise of Bagley and other officers prompted him to write a letter asking what medal recommendations had been made for them.

"The morale of the navy has suffered from the same influences that have affected the whole country which has not yet recovered from the shock of the war," Daniels continued.

The navy is short of skilled men because congress has not yet raised the pay to figures recommended "months ago," Daniels explained.

Some of the brainiest men in the war would have gone unrewarded had he not changed the medal recommendation, he asserted.

"When the report of the board of awards came to me I observed at a glance that there were very few recommendations for officers and men in the armed guard service. These were the men of the navy first to put their lives in jeopardy and make the supreme sacrifice for America in the world war." Young men who laid the North sea mine barrage, a most difficult task were inadequately recognized, Daniels said.

"I also observed that some of the men who had met submarine attacks and shown high courage in the hour when their ships had been torpedoed or mined had been given the distinguished service medal while others, who had in the most trying hour that can come to any man, shown equally distinguished behavior, had either been given no medal at all or given a lesser honor. I directed the bureau of navigation to place on the list the commander of every ship torpedoed whose bearing and devotion to duty had been reported as in keeping with the spirit of Lawrence and Perry Sigbee."

U. S. AIRMEN, CAPTIVE IN MEXICO, WELL TREATED

By United Press Leased Wire
Negales, Ariz.—Lieutenants L. M. Wolf and G. L. Usher, American aviators, who descended in Mexico yesterday after losing their way are being well treated, according to reports here today.

The aviators are not under arrest but have the freedom of Naco, Arizona. American mining men are looking after their welfare. Army officers here said they expected the airmen to be released within twenty-four hours.

The men landed on Mexican soil yesterday when they mistook a Mexican railroad for the line leading into Nogales. Mexican guards put the men under technical arrest when they walked into Naco, Arizona yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Lillian Smith of Asotin, Wash., and Mrs. George Thompson of Memphis, Tenn., who have been guests of the Misses Ada and Flora Kethroe, Washington street, for several weeks, have gone to Chicago.

Mrs. Lucy A. Pardee is all at her home on Morrison street.

Only Cash Used In Newberry's Senate Fight

Every Effort Made to Cover Up Expenditures in Senatorial Election, Prosecutor Avers
—Knows of $250,000
Expense Account

(By J. L. O'Sullivan)
By United Press Leased Wire
Grand Rapids, Mich.—Payment by the committee in charge of the campaign of Truman H. Newberry, for the United States senate, were practically always made in cash, Frank C. Dailey declared here today in resuming his statement in the election fraud trial.

Field agents would go to the Detroit headquarters and receive cash sums from the campaign heads, no receipts being taken, Dailey said.

"Class workers went over the state and stirred up Newberry sentiment, all receiving approximately $200 a month salary and had an unlimited expense account," the attorney declared.

One worker who was paid a total of $3,500, spent months among railroad unions urging the members to support Newberry. Other glass workers were paid to appeal to the marines, the Polish, Indians, lumberjacks and colored voters.

Dailey again referred to large sums of money spent for intoxicating liquors, banquets, flowers and cigars.

The government will put its finger on $250,000 spent in the primary campaign at once, Dailey declared.

In telling of the campaign of James V. Helm for the democratic nomination in opposition to Henry Ford, Dailey said the Newberry committee financed and directed Helm's race.

"The Newberry committee induced Helm to enter the race, paid him $50 a week salary, picked William Mickel as campaign manager and circulated the Helm petitions," Dailey said.

Dailey said George S. Ladd, Stockbridge, Mass., was hired to speak at good roads meetings in Michigan in the interest of Newberry.

Attorney Martin Littleton for the defense objected to the statement of what subject Ladd was speaking on.

"It has nothing to do with the charges," Littleton said.

"It has a very intimate relation and you may proceed," Judge Sessions informed Dailey.

"The thing I am trying to get at is to show these men did this for hire and for pay," Dailey declared.

"Newberry was informed of the vast expenditures of the campaign and was kept in constant touch with the political officials in Michigan," Dailey declared $330 was spent to send circulars to fathers of soldiers killed in the war. Newberry said he could not pay the bill when it was sent to him, the attorney said, but a few days later the man who spent the money received a check for the amount from the Newberry estate in Detroit.

AMERICAN WOMAN BECOMES BRIDE OF A GREEK PRINCE

MRS. WILLIAM B. LEEDS OF
CLEVELAND WEDS SON OF
FORMER KING CON-
STANTINE

By United Press Leased Wire
Geneva.—Mrs. William B. Leeds, formerly of Cleveland, O., and New York was married to Prince Constantine of Greece, late yesterday at Vevey, 11 miles southeast of Lausanne.

It was an elaborate ceremony lasting more than an hour. Former King Constantine's own priest, using the service of the Greek Catholic church, officiated. Constantine sent him especially to perform the ceremony which started at 3:30 o'clock.

The bridegroom and his wife, the former Queen Sophia were unable to be present but the queen mother and all the Greek princes and princesses attended.

Prince Nicholas held the crown over the head of the groom during the ceremony while the former crown prince, the Duke of Sparta, held the crown for Mrs. Leeds. The princess Catherine carried the bride's train.

Besides members of the Greek royalty, the Princess Quesada of Italy, and the infant and infant Alphonse of Spain were present. The Danish court was represented by one of its princes.

During the day, young Master Leeds gave a skating party for the Greek princes and princesses. Following the wedding ceremony, the queen mother said now that she had an American daughter she hoped to carry out her long cherished desire to visit the United States.

SEEK CLUES TO IDENTITY OF SLAIN CHORUS GIRL

By United Press Leased Wire
Detroit.—Authorities here today endeavored to trace a report that Frances Altman Stockwell, chorus girl, murdered in Cleveland, was from a well-to-do New York family.

The girl's trunk came here with the show. Opened last night it disclosed a marriage license issued in New York city to Frances Altman and W. R. Stockwell. Letters from Stockwell indicated he was a sailor.

Papers gleaned from the trunk were sent to Cleveland today to assist in clearing the mystery of the murder. The girl's body was found in a vacant flat there Sunday.

I. Baheall left Monday for Chicago where he will visit friends and relatives for a few days.

PATRIOTIC DUTY FORCED NEWBERRY IN SENATE RACE

NEWBERRY WAS CANDIDATE BE-CAUSE FORD WAS NOT GOOD
AMERICAN, HIS ATTOR-NEY ASSERTED

DID NOT SPEND OWN MONEY

Not a Dollar of Campaign Expenses
Was Paid by Successful Candidate. Jury is Told—Big Organization is Described

By J. L. O'Sullivan
By United Press Leased Wire
Grand Rapids, Mich.—"Patriotic duty" was Senator Truman H. Newberry's answer today to charges that he was elected to the senatorship in a "barral campaign."

Newberry's opponent in 1918 was Henry Ford.

Judge Sessions warned Murfin to avoid a discussion of the merits of candidates when the attorney attempted to draw a comparison between the war records of Henry Ford and Newberry.

"This is no time for such an argument," Judge Sessions said.

"I want to show the purposes of these men's activities," declared Murfin.

"If they made illegal expenditures of money during the campaign, it makes no difference," the court ruled. "Patriotic duty" drove the 134 men on trial here charged with frauds in connection with that election, to "do everything possible" to elect Newberry, Murfin said.

Murfin's statement was in answer to claims made by Prosecutor Frank C. Dailey, who pictured a campaign where "enormous amounts" of money were used to purchase votes and buy political support.

"In analyzing what these defendants did, the atmosphere under which they did it must be considered," he said.

"When Henry Ford announced his candidacy on June 14, 1918, the state of the mind of the people was hanging in the balance. The last German drive was at its height; the advanced armies were within thirty miles of Paris and the channel ports were threatened."

Americanism and patriotism were "at their very crest," Murfin declared. Murfin declared Newberry had "an honorable record" in the Spanish American war and had been secretary of the navy under "that militant American, Theodore Roosevelt."

He told how Newberry volunteered his services within forty-eight hours after our country was threatened, in 1917.

"We will prove conclusively that these men did was not for pay but for patriotism," Murfin said. "They were not actuated by avarice but by Americanism."

Murfin said Newberry was asked to become a candidate by a group of "representative citizens" who conferred in Detroit as early as August 1917.

At first Newberry refused, Murfin said, "but in December and January the Newberry movement in Michigan continued to gather force and momentum until finally the commander seriously set about to inquire whether or not it was his duty to make the race."

Murfin declared that when Newberry "finally consented" to the use of his name, he stipulated he could not leave his duties as aide to the commander of the port of New York; that he could not be active and that he could not contribute one dollar to this movement.

"This determination was religiously adhered to by him from beginning to end," Murfin said, "and the proof will positively show you that not a dollar of his money was handled by any one."

The attorney declared the Newberry organization which was built up was "undoubtedly the most perfect political organization ever put together."

"Every township, hamlet and city in the state was organized," he said.

"The commander was running against the best advertised man in America. It was necessary that his qualifications be given the widest publicity."

"A great advertising system was organized in charge of the most skillful publicity men who could be found—who did their work thoroughly, well, and with absolute honesty."

Murfin then told the jury, in great detail, the connection which many of the defendants had with the Newberry campaign.

BABE INJURED BEFORE BIRTH MAY GET $50,000

By United Press Leased Wire
Omaha, Neb.—Can an infant cash an injury sustained before birth for $50,000. Anna Marie Liblin, age four months, wants to know. She brought suit against the traction company here for that sum, her attorneys alleging a bump on her mother's head, sustained in a street car accident, was transmitted to her by pre-natal influence.

Anna's attorneys allege she was a regular passenger, having paid her fare under the rule which permits children under five years to ride free when accompanied by a parent. They say an unborn child is a legal entity.

The street car company in its answer, due in court today, will claim Anna did not exist as a person until after her birth, therefore that she had no dealings with the company.

Troop 3 of Boy Scouts will hold its weekly meeting at First Ward school tonight.

THREE DRUGGISTS CASH CHECKS AND LOSE THEIR MONEY

TAKE MILL HAND DRESSES LIKE A MACHINIST AND TELL NICESTORY BUTCHECKS ARE BAD

F. G. Walker's drug store at 952 College avenue and the two drug stores of the Downer Pharmacy are the latest victims of a worthless check artist. Each store was stung for $24.50 by a stranger who was dressed as a mill hand. The checks were supposed to have been signed by the Appleton Machine company, per certain initials that were obscure. The endorsement on each instrument was W. W. Walker. "I had no suspicion he was a crook," said F. G. Walker this morning. "His clothes and hat were covered with grease and I took him for a machinist. He said he wanted a hot water bag as one of his children had punctured the one he had purchased of me some time ago. He said I was not to blame for that and in paying for it presented a check for $24.50 which I cashed, giving him the difference in currency. "In order to make his deception more complete he carried a dinner pail and gave me the impression that he was on his way home from one of the machine shops. We talked for about ten minutes. He said that he had been in Appleton for fourteen months and that he came here from Racine. His family consisted of himself and wife and several children whom he said were continually getting in trouble with neighbors' children. He told me quite a little about his family affairs in which I was not particularly interested."

The checks were passed Saturday. Checks for similar amounts were also passed by him on the other two drug stores on the same day, and in each instance he bought a hot water bottle, and was given the difference in money. He told about the same story at each store. The checks all bore the signature of the Appleton Machine company.

ASK SHERIFF'S AID IN ENFORCING DRY LAWS OF COUNTRY

SHERIFF RULE RECEIVES REQUEST FROM PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT OFFICER AT GREEN BAY

Sheriffs of Wisconsin are expected to assist in the enforcement of the prohibition law, according to a letter which Sheriff V. R. Rule received from Thomas A. Delaney, federal prohibition director at Green Bay, a portion of which reads:

"I had hoped, and the United States government had desired, that I personally call upon you ere this, but the work of organizing has been so great and the state of Wisconsin so large that a visit with each Sheriff in so short a time has been impossible. "Now that federal prohibition is effective I want to ask you in behalf of the United States government to assist the federal prohibition agencies to enforce the law. The federal force does not intend to go into any county or state to supplant the work and duties of the state and municipal officers, but instead is very ready to cooperate with and assist state officers in the enforcement of the 18th amendment. "It is hoped that each and every official will realize that under his oath of office he is a sworn officer of the United States government fully empowered to enforce its laws, and the prohibition enforcement department being limited in funds and men looks for the hearty cooperation and assistance of the sheriff's office in its endeavor to make this work a success."

SPEED DRIVES ROMANCE OUT OF LIFE OF TELEPHONE GIRL

Former Appleton Girl Tells of Her Experiences in Connecting up Conversations — Supervisor Keeps Close Tab on the Work

Speed has knocked all the romance out of the life of the telephone operator and between the impudent public and the ever-watchful supervisor, the life of the "hello girl" is not the pleasantest on earth. Miss Lucile C. Selk, former Appleton young lady, now an operator in the telephone exchange at Madison, in an interesting article for the Chicago Herald and Examiner of Sunday, February 1, gives her impressions of the operator's life.

Miss Selk's story is particularly interesting because of her reference to experiences while an operator in Appleton. She connected lines here when the exchange was located on the Midway.

Her story follows:
The public at large is woefully ignorant of the mechanics of the telephone system. If it actually knew what the operator is up against there would be more harmony between subscribers and the girls at the switchboard.

Central is not at liberty to do with subscribers as she pleases. She is not allowed to say to them what she pleases. Her scope for conversation over wire is confined to a few curt, polite phrases which are supposed to meet any exigency, but which at times fall far short of their mission and help to nourish that popular belief that the "hello girl" is the most stupid animal on earth.

Many times a little misunderstanding occurs between subscriber and operator. Central is supposed to reply to the question with one of the stock phrases in the book of instruction.

It is impossible to do so intelligently, and so she puts in a word or two of her own. No sooner is the forbidden speech whispered into the transmitter when the omniscient supervisor has pounced on her with an avalanche of reprimand that often results in a very quaky, "Number, please?"

If Men Were Operators.
I wonder what the telephone service would be like if we had men instead of women at the switchboard? I feel safe in predicting, backed by my years of experience with the male telephone user, that there would soon be a far more humble public voice.

Of late years telephone work has lost the color and freedom that characterized it in its early days.

I recall an exchange in a Middle West town of fifteen thousand in which I worked. The operating room, a chilly enclosure fourteen by four, was used for both local and long distance systems. Near one side of the local board was an aisle two feet wide which was used for a rest room when the operators were off duty. It boasted of a window overlooking an alley upon which were imposed the back of the city's leading hotel, a grocery store's debris, a shoe house, building deluged with excrement, the stage entrance to the Bijou and several other adjuncts to the world of production.

As the operators took their recesses, one by one, the subtle scent of cheese sandwiches, bananas, sweet pickles, chocolate, marshmallows, peanuts and other articles of nourishment that go to make up the working girl's bill of fare, assailed your nostrils blantly.

In some of the room left the chief operator had stationed her small desk and the rest of the room was divided between the toll board and a big sheet iron stove that persisted through the four seasons.

At 10 p. m. the night girls dragged from the depths of an almost impenetrable cubby-hole, a so-called sanitary couch and flounced upon it some bedding which had aired all day in the stuffy smallness of same cubby-hole.

That Was the Life.
And then the nights! Those glorious nights of freedom! Only two operators took care of all the long distance and local calls.

Now and then a farmer out in Greenville Center "rang up Central" for the time and after she had given it to him in a sweetly cultivated voice he followed an hour or two of badinage which wound up with a date for a cutter ride and an invitation to the next barn dance two miles this side of Perkins Hall.

Then the night clerk at the Hotel Ritter was a chummy, good-hearted soul. What man weighing 250 isn't?

"Say, V (you told him confidentially your initial was V), how'd you like a nice little fried chicken, or a club-house sandwich and some apple pie and coffee and a hor-dee-outrec?"

"Oh, Art," you patted diplomatically, "now would you do that little thing for me? Honest? Cross your heart?"

And you scarcely had time to close your "cam" before Art's huge bulk came stumbling up the back stairway preceded by a steaming fry four feet square.

These Days Are Gone.
Gone, gone are the colorful, pioneer days of telephone operating.

The "hello girl" captures no more Johnnies by wire. Seldom is there a romance told of that began with the fateful "Number, please?" and ended with the equally fateful "I do."

Even so, the telephone business, that once was certainly mischievous and she conceived a sudden desire to show Garry's present to his bride. If therefore, becomes imperative that Garry recover the chemise by hook or crook. Persuasions fail, so he resorts to theft. Have you ever tried stealing a lady's chemise? If you want to realize the difficulties and embarrassments in the way, and at the same time, store up enough laughter to tide you over your next income tax report see "Up in Mabel's Room" when it comes to the Appleton Theatre Wednesday, Feb. 4.

EXPECT GUARD TO GO OVER TOP NEXT WEEK

SIXTY-ONE MEN ARE ENLISTED IN GUARD COMPANY HERE, ACCORDING TO MADISON REPORT.

(Special to Post-Crescent.)

Madison, Wis.—Word from Oshkosh that 81 men had been enlisted in the infantry company and that a rousing meeting was held Sunday in support of the machine gun company and information from Appleton that 61 men had been enlisted causes a belief to exist in the adjutant general's office that all of the companies in the Fox river valley will go over the top during the intensive recruiting week of Feb. 8 to 14. Word from Oshkosh to the effect that the Trades and Labor Council has concurred in the organization of the companies is most gratifying to the adjutant general and is taken as an indication that the labor unions of that city do not labor under the impression that the guard is hostile to unionism. General Holway has repeatedly stated that no union, acting within its legal rights, need fear the guard and that the Wisconsin guard may not under the laws of the state, be ordered out on account of a strike unless life or property is in danger.

As a result of the showing made the past week the adjutant general has directed Lieut. Col. Byron Beveridge to visit the Fox river valley stations this week to make preliminary preparations for the muster in of those companies. It is believed with Oshkosh an Appleton showing the gains they have, that Neenah and Menasha will also go over the top.

Beaver Dam will have its federal inspection Feb. 12. That organization has requested permission to carry more than 110 men on the rolls, but the request had to be refused. Janesville had its state muster Monday by Col. Beveridge.

A FOX RIVER PROJECT.

A bill of great importance to the Fox River valley is now before congress. It provides for the improvement of the Fox river and canals for a distance of 156 miles, from the city of De Pere, seven miles from its mouth, to Portage, with connection at that point with the Wisconsin river. The depth of the river for the first 125 miles to Montello is to be six feet, and from Montello to Portage four feet. It covers the construction and reconstruction of 27 locks and 16 dams, the construction and maintenance of harbors having a depth of six feet on lake Winnebago, and the dredging, snagging and improving of the Wolf river from its mouth to New London, a distance of 47 miles, to a depth of four feet. The estimated cost of the improvement, which would be made under a continuing appropriation, is $749,103.

In the early days of Wisconsin the Fox and Wisconsin river canal route was the chief means of interior transportation for the large territory it served. More than $3,000,000 has been spent by the government on this project, so that its investment represents a large sum. In later years rail transportation and the federal policy of discouraging waterway development and usage, caused this route, in common with practically all interior water routes, large and small, to fall into decay. For many years the traffic over this once great water thoroughfare has been comparatively light. The antagonism of the railroads to waterways and the power of their influence in congress and at Washington brought water transportation into disuse and disrepute.

It is true that we have had appropriations for rivers and harbors all these years, and that millions upon millions of dollars have been spent in their improvement. But a large proportion of this money has been wasted on fanciful projects to satisfy the political needs of pork barrel politicians, while much of it has gone into meritorious undertakings without the production either of commerce or of boats on which to move it. The trouble has perhaps not been so much with appropriations as with the policy which protected railroads in discriminatory rates and practices, thereby enabling them to drive commerce from our rivers, lakes and canals.

Recently there has been an awakening and the demand for a restoration of water commerce is becoming so strong that a new national policy may be looked for. If it materializes into results the Fox river valley stands to benefit by it enormously. There is no question but what a water route from Green Bay to Portage via the Fox river, properly constructed and maintained, would carry commerce more than sufficient to justify the necessary expenditures. At the present time this channel is furnishing a large portion of the fuel supply to the cities and territory along its route. Barges from Green Bay carry several hundred thousand tons of coal up river annually, and this would be greatly increased with a better channel and more adequate facilities. In addition to this a regular line of commodity barges would transport a heavy tonnage of other freight.

Appleton, in common with all other cities, towns and localities on this route, should actively support the appropriation for the improvement of Fox river. They should unite their forces and secure the cooperation of every congressman and the senators from Wisconsin. If no interest is shown in the enterprise it is not likely to get very far. Congress does not hand out money, however meritorious the calls for it may be, unless there is a genuine public demand for it, and particularly from the district to be primarily benefited.

Waterways which carry or will develop traffic in volume sufficient to warrant their improvement are of value indirectly to the entire country. They relieve our congested rail traffic, and help to promote on a widening scale the use of cheaper means of transportation, all of which is an economic gain. We are entitled to the Fox river improvement as a bona fide waterway project. We can present our case to congress in good faith, and we have the facts to sustain our claims. If we get together and work for this appropriation we can obtain it. If we sit still and do nothing we shall find it goes by the board, along with discrediting excess baggage that always must be pared from our appropriation bills. The Fox river valley is more than a favored portion of Wisconsin. It is an industrial, commercial and agricultural power, in the northwest. It can have recognition if it goes about it in the right way to compel it.

OUR EDUCATIONAL POLICY.

The announcement that the board of regents of the University of Wisconsin has granted the faculty an increase of 25 per cent in salaries will be received with approval throughout the state. The pay of the professors in our colleges and universities has been no more commensurate with their services and living requirements than the pay of teachers in our public schools. Both are notoriously low and inadequate. We have reached a point in our educational policies which is the parting of the ways. We will either provide sufficient salaries to these public servants to keep our schools and colleges upon a high plane, or we will refuse to do so and inevitably lower their standards. It is no exaggeration to say that our educational system is the most important public institution we have. The quality of our schools determines the quality of our citizenship. From them we derive our Americanism, the competency, integrity, efficiency of our growing manhood and womanhood. We reap tomorrow from what they produce today. We are absolutely dependent upon public education for the virility of industry, commerce, civic stability, and for the strength of our government. Whatever America has attained in the life of this nation has, been fundamentally and predominantly through public education.

It is obvious that we cannot neglect so vital an element in our national development as our schools and universities. Yet it is a fact that we are doing this. We have been underpaying those engaged in the teaching profession so long that we are already undermining the educational system. Competency in teaching demands a combination of temperament, personality and training which places a limit upon the number of capable instructors. It requires character and preparation to reach the standard which is necessary to make our schools productive of the results we expect from them. Low salaries can have no other effect than to drive from the profession many of our most competent teachers, and to prevent those who would make the best teachers from entering the profession. This is exactly what our educational policy is doing in our public schools throughout the state and in our colleges and universities.

It is time that we came to a realization of the fact that we must deal more liberally with teachers in the matter of salaries. Our schools are in competition with business and all the varied private pursuits which, under today's conditions, offer far greater attraction to our young men and young women. We must meet this competition or suffer the consequences, and it is apparent that if we do not and the consequences become more serious, it will take years to recover the ground lost and restore our schools to the plane they ought to occupy. The action taken by the regents of the University of Wisconsin should stimulate the authorities all over Wisconsin to look the educational situation squarely in the face and take measures to remedy it.

Bob Pulls Me Up to the Room Again—
 —the Others Are Gone

"Call up that shaft, Bob! Whistle to them! Shout!" I exclaimed.
 It had taken us but a few minutes to hasten through our long explanations, nevertheless, I was appalled to think that we had wasted much valuable time. Suddenly I realized that after the fall of the heavy wall panel which Spence and Archer had battered down, not a single sound had come from the friends in the room high above us.

"Call up the shaft!" I cried again.
 Bob whistled—I knew well the old fraternity signal. But his brothers did not return the whistle. Only a faint and silly echo came back to our ears.
 Then Bob cried, "Spence! Archer! Chrys!" in his far-carrying voice. The words mocked us in a faint stage whisper. "Spence! Archer! Chrys!" Then silence ensued, an abominable, ominous silence. I made me cling closer to Bob's arm as we stood in the darkness and listened.

"What has happened—up there?" I inquired in awe.

Bob didn't reply to that. Instead, he asked a question of me:

"The hammering which went on while you were serenading stop—it said it was the pounding which caused your little box of a closet to slide down into my pit?"

"By inches—yes—Bob!" Then I rushed on breathlessly, a new hope crowding my thoughts so fast that my words were almost a jumble:

"The cell—it was like a little old elevator settling down by fits and starts. Something about the pounding seemed to loosen small levers or stones—of course, I don't understand, Bob, but maybe the wall has little cogs, or steps down the corners?"

"May be," Bob admitted.

"Any possibility—probably—you could climb up the wall by means of them?"

"If I leave you—and make the attempt—you will not be afraid—down here—all alone?"

"I'll be stiff with fright, almost paralyzed," I said.

"But what difference does that make? Go up—try it! There's a rope up there!" I described the one Chrys and I had knotted from the "joust" covers—"You can pull me up with it."

"Here's the automatic," Bob said, placing the gun in my hand. "If anything happens to me—if I should slip—and fall—" He stopped. He did not need to give me further directions.

"I understand, darling," I whispered.

"If I fall, Jane dear, you will not let yourself starve? You will not live to suffer? You will use the gun while you have the strength to use it? Promise me!"

"I—promise, Bob!"

"Kiss me," he said. And when the long ceremony was concluded, without another word, Bob pushed his way up through the broken roof of the closet. I could hear his body scraping against the wall. He was lifting his weight up the vertical shaft by some heroic process. Finally he began to tell me about his progress.

"I'm making it," he called down to me. "I'm making it just as an Alpine climber goes up a rock 'chimney.' I'm making it with my back as well as my hands and feet. Gosh, I'm winning out, my dear. It all comes back to me—those lessons in the Alps the first Dad took us boys to Switzerland. I'm as good as ever at it."

And he was. Finally he spoke once more:

"Honey! I've got a hold on the beams! I'm up! I'm safe, Jane. And I see the rope ladder you spoke of. I'll shoop it into a basket. Put it on like a breeches buoy!"

Down came one end of the rope. I obeyed orders.

"Don't tire yourself, Jane, by trying to help. Just keep him steady. Darling, I'll haul away when you say so."

If my body was still and limp, my senses were very much alive. I wondered why my ears did not tell me about Archer and the others. Not a word of astonishment or of welcome had greeted my husband! And it was odd that nobody helped Bob to haul me up!

After a brief labor, Bob lifted me from the knotted basket and carried me to one of the four big divans. I looked around the room and shuddered. The friends I had left there—Chrys, Spence and Archer—were nowhere to be seen? And that awful place was set with traps for human beings!

New Ether Makes One Tell the Truth

Toronto—Dr. James Cotton, the young Toronto surgeon whose new ether it is claimed will revolutionize painless methods, has won his fight for its recognition. The new anaesthetic is being produced on a huge scale by the E. L. DuPont de Nemours Co., Wilmington, Del.

Dr. Cotton's wife, concert singer and protégée of the late Lillian Nordica, shares with him the honor of the triumph, he insisted as he told the story of what his discovery will do, and of the years of discouragement while it was being developed and tested, and while leading medical men scoffed at its possibilities.

The new ether, Dr. Cotton asserts, is really a development of ether that was discovered years ago, but it acts more quickly, almost, entirely eliminates nausea and allows even major operations, such as removal of the appendix, to be performed without the patient's feeling pain or losing consciousness.

It is said to be valuable in childbirth, relieving the mother of much suffering, though, it does not remove all sensation of pain. Perhaps its queerest effect is that when a certain amount is administered, the patient becomes incapable of telling anything but the exact truth in answer to a question. The most hardened criminals, it is claimed, will give up their secrets under its influence.

Some methods of administering the ether, Dr. Cotton says, do not differ greatly from the familiar ones. Others are as simple as the donning of a mask. A reporter stuck pins into a man equipped with such a mask, with no apparent effect other than to amuse him.

Experiments in developing the new ether lasted for years, and were laughed at by many of the foremost medical men. The first promising results were obtained in May, 1916, when a number of animals were relieved from pain without going to sleep. At this time it cost $80 a pound to manufacture the material, and it took three weeks to make a pound.

Dr. Cotton is the son of the late Dr. James Henry Cotton, himself a surgeon of repute. The boy was trained in surgery from the age of 14 and when he was 48 he performed many of his father's operations. He is still in his thirties. Opposition to his discovery, he says, affected his practice seriously, but his wife stood by him in the fight, and repeatedly kept him from giving it up when his own courage almost failed.

Portillo Diaz took one extreme—that the peons should have no land—and Francisco Madero took another—that the peons should have it all. Both Madero and Diaz fell. But Carranza's promised division of land is steadily being carried out. Restoration and allotment of lands is progressing. More than 40,000,000 acres owned by about two dozen corporations and firms and now reverted to the government because of failure of the owners to carry out provisions of concession contracts, will be subdivided and given small farmers. More than 1,000 towns have already been benefited by Carranza's scheme of community lands.

Needless X-Ray Examinations.

A reader writes from another state that she expects to be in town presently and will I please recommend a specialist to make an X-Ray examination for her. Is there any place where they make X-Ray examinations at small expense without the request of the patient's family doctor?

This is one of a great many similar inquiries which ought to be answered here.

A proctologist of high standing recently suggested that it would be well to let the laity know that a great many expensive X-Ray examinations are utterly superfluous and futile from every point of view.

The surgeon stated that some physicians are guilty of suggesting such X-Ray examinations of patients with lesions of the soft tissues which cannot be demonstrated by X-ray examinations in any event.

When the Wischmeier family, numbering about forty million members, sets out in quest of frenzied diagnosis the first big mistake is generally some such futile X-Ray examination.

The Wischmeiers harbor a fancy that the X-ray is sort of a searchlight which shows up all kinds of troubles a doctor can't discover otherwise.

This is of course absurd. And unfortunately there are about as many dishonest as there are honest physicians using X-rays. It is the self-nominated "specialist" who is largely responsible for the deplorable misconception of the X-ray which the layman has.

This particular species of quacks dwells on the "wonderful X-ray" in his appeals to gullible people and the Wischmeiers are inclined to drop in and let the old rascal pretend to look at their in-ards.

In practice I find that a considerable share of the X-ray examinations a doctor advises, examinations made by competent X-ray technicians prove negative. Therefore I can imagine nothing more extravagant or foolish than the layman seeking such examinations on his own hook.

The X-ray technician must have a pretty definite idea what he is trying to demonstrate before he begins his X-ray examination, and if he is not in position to direct his examination to a definite object somebody is going to pay a handsome sum for a lot of useless data. Data are all very well, we have to have 'em in order to arrive at an intelligent diagnosis and determine the appropriate method of treatment. But there is nothing quite so useless to a physician as aimless or disconnected data.

X-ray examinations are expensive, and often of the utmost importance and value. But there is plenty of time to have such examinations made when your doctor decides that it is necessary.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

A Hair Cut or a Shave.

Any harm from clipping the hair under the arms? (R.)

ANSWER—No. But it is more comfortable and satisfactory to shave it with a safety razor, and this removes hair as permanently as any alleged depilatory save the electric needle or for X-ray.

May Girls Skate.

Kindly tell me whether it is harmful for a girl to go skating on ice out of doors at the menstrual period. (F. W.)

ANSWER—Certainly not.

Greaseless Cold Cream.

Do you consider greaseless cold cream any good for the skin or the complexion? (F. R.)

ANSWER—No. Real cold cream—freshly made by your own pharmacist according to the U. S. Pharmacopoeia formula for Ointment or Rose Water—is often good for the skin and complexion, because the skin is likely to be deficient in oil in the winter-time in our desert indoor atmosphere. "Greaseless" cold cream is merely an irritating mess. Cold cream is good because it greases the skin.

TWENTY-THREE FLU CASES REPORTED IN CITY OF KAUKAUNA

SEVERAL SCHOOL TEACHERS ARE ILL—LEO LAWE BURIED IN GREEN BAY—OTHER NEWS

Kaukauna—Twenty-three cases of influenza and one of pneumonia have been reported to city health officer, Dr. W. S. Nolan, he announced today. No deaths have been reported.

The health condition in Kaukauna is exceptionally good. Most of the cases reported are only of a minor nature and little difficulty is expected in handling the situation.

Kaukauna Trounced
Kaukauna highs took a terrible licking from Illbert Friday night at that village. When the trouble was over the count stood at 76 to 4 with the locals on the short end of the long score.

Kaukauna showed the poorest form displayed this season. Team work and basket shooting was away off color. The slippery condition of the floor kept the locals from getting started, altho Hilbert playing on the home floor with a fast quintet had things its own way thru out.

Legion Meeting
Kaukauna Post 41 of the American Legion will hold a big meeting at the Knights of Columbus hall Thursday night. It is planned to increase the membership of the organization, and preliminary arrangements will be discussed at the meeting.

Play Appleton Guards
Co A of the state guards of Appleton, will furnish the opposition for the fast coming Fox club team at the auditorium tonight. The games will be one of the best of the season and a record crowd is expected.

The locals will use seven men in the combat, so there will be no danger of a let-up in their attack. Nans will jump center, and Hayes, "Fleisch" Schroeder and Garvey will work at forward, Spindler, Brenzel and Hustling will hold down the guard positions.

Fox Club Smoker
Invitations have been issued to Fox club members to attend a smoker and luncheon at the club rooms on Wednesday evening. About fifty will be present.

Burial in Green Bay
Funeral services for the late Leo Lawe were held at the Episcopal church at Green Bay Sunday. Burial was at Roseclawn cemetery beside his mother. The body was taken by train to Green Bay at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. Leo Lawe, one of Kaukauna's best known citizens, died Tuesday as the result of a fall at Milwaukee about ten days ago. The deceased was born in Green Bay.

Teacher Is Ill
Influenza has not affected the attendance lists in the city, but is playing havoc with the teachers of the various schools. Miss Esther O'Boyle of Park school, Frank Younger of the high school, and Mrs. Berklund of Nicolet school are all out because of illness. Miss Harriet Herman, resumed her duties at the high school Monday, having recovered from a recent operation for appendicitis.

Little Chute Dance
A dancing party will be held at Lamer's hall, Little Chute, on Thursday evening. Mills orchestra of Kaukauna, has been engaged to furnish the music.

Council Meeting
Several matters of considerable importance will be discussed at the monthly meeting of the common council at the city hall tonight. The meeting will be called at 8:15 o'clock.

Amusement Club Dance
Arrangements are being completed for the dancing party to be given by the Kaukauna Amusement club at Eagle hall Friday evening. Music will be furnished by Mills orchestra of this city. Special decorations will be provided.

Bowlers Meet Appleton
Kaukauna bowlers rolled two match contests with Appleton teams at the Higginsberg alleys Monday night. Higginsberg's Colts took on the Olympics, and the Gunter-Bedat five rolled against the Arcades. In a match game with the Pierce Bros. team of Menasha, the Gunter-Bedat five of this city was defeated Friday night by 80 pins. The visitors hit the wood for 2778, with the Kaukauna men counting 2938.

C. W. Stribley left today for Florida, to spend the remaining winter months.

EQUITY EXCHANGE MAKES ROOM FOR MORE BUSINESS

Carpenters are Remodeling Warehouse Now Used for Storing Feed—Empty Cold Storage House

The Outagamie Exchange has a crew of carpenters at work remodeling the warehouse immediately north of its store building which at present is being used as a storage place for feed. The upper story is being fitted up for the supply of feed which will be handled by means of an elevator that is being installed.

The lower floor will be used exclusively for farm machinery, several carloads of which have already been ordered and will arrive during the present month. The building is 40 by 90 feet in dimensions and is provided with a concrete floor. The changes will be completed by the end of the week.

The cold storage building which was temporarily leased by its former owner, and which has been filled with cabbage ever since it came into the hands of the Equity, will be empty in a few days as the cabbage is now being shipped to Chicago. This will give additional room to the Exchange for its rapidly expanding business.

MAIL CARRIER SLIGHTLY HURT IN ROAD ACCIDENT

A near tip-over and an injured knee are the net result of an attempt of Frank O. Letts, rural mail carrier and a farmer carrying a live cow on his sleigh to pass each other in the town of Center. Because of his risky load, the farmer could not leave the road. Mr. Letts drove to one side and in so doing his cutter tipped sufficiently to entangle him and also damage his sleigh. The nature of his injury is not serious, he states.

WILL CONSOLIDATE MAPLE CREEK SCHOOLS

PREPARATIONS ARE BEING MADE FOR COMBINING TWO SCHOOLS—DALE-MEDINA IS FIRST

The consolidation movement which has manifested itself prominently since the close of the war is extending to the schools of the county. The Dale-Medina school consolidated less than a month ago and will erect a new school building this summer and there is a possibility of some of the schools in the town of Maple Creek taking similar steps this spring.

A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools, attended a recent meeting at Sugar Bush school building, district No. 3, at which the advisability of consolidating with an adjoining district in Waupaca county was considered. The taxpayers decided to unite and form a graded school with some of the districts of their town instead of going out of the county.

A committee consisting of Charles Killian, H. Krueger, Roy Spence and the county superintendent of schools was appointed as a committee to visit the school in district No. 6, town of Lawrence, Brown county, which not only has a graded school, but also transports its pupils to and from school, for the purpose of familiarizing themselves with the course that would be necessary to pursue.

It was the intention of the committee to visit the school this week, but the trip had to be postponed on account of the school being closed. It is possible that an effort will be made to consolidate two or three districts in the town of Maple Creek with the intention of building a graded school building and adopting the transportation system.

NO CASH ON BELGIAN ORDERS FOR MONEY

POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT STOPS PAYMENT ON ORDERS FROM BELGIUM—BANK POSTAL NOTES

No money orders can be issued in Belgium payable to persons living in the United States, according to notice received by the local postoffice. The order states, however, that in international money order offices in the United States may accept money orders payable to people in Belgium as usual. No reason is given for this order, but it is thought that the fluctuation of money values in Europe is responsible for it.

Payment has been stopped by the postoffice department on all Canadian postal notes issued to persons in the United States. Persons receiving them are instructed to return them to the sender. This has nothing to do with the regular Canadian money order, which is payable as usual. Not many postal notes are in circulation at the present time. H. J. French, assistant postmaster, states.

THE COMPANY HAS NO BONDED DEBT

Based upon reports of the auditors and appraisers, and the letter of President S. P. Woodard, we summarize as follows:

PURPOSE OF ISSUE:

The Company commenced operations in March, 1917, with a small plant having a capacity of 100 tires per day. Its present production exceeds 1,000 tires and 200 rain coats per day, and on completion of additions to plant now under construction the Company will have a daily capacity of over 1,500 tires and 300 rain coats. This financing provides for additions to plant above mentioned and increased working capital.

FEATURES PROTECTING PREFERRED STOCK:

No mortgage may be placed on property nor notes issued maturing later than one year, without the consent of 66 2-3% of the Preferred Stock holders. There are ample restrictions against the issuance of any additional Preferred Stock of the present amount authorized. The Company agrees to maintain net tangible assets equal to $200 per share and net quick assets amounting to $125 per share of Preferred Stock outstanding.

NET TANGIBLE ASSETS $358.84—NET QUICK ASSETS, $207.73:

Net Tangible Assets for the Preferred Stock as shown by Company's balance sheets as of May 31, 1919, consideration being given to present financing, are $358.84 per share and Net Current Assets are $207.73 per share. Both figures are exclusive of good will, patents, trade-marks, etc.

NET EARNINGS ON PREFERRED OVER 6 1/2% TIMES DIVIDEND REQUIREMENTS:

Based on present financing, the net earnings (after deducting depreciation, Federal and other taxes) for twelve months ended December 31, 1919, parily estimated, were $347,764.52—more than six and one-half times dividend requirements on $750,000 Preferred Stock now offered.

All of the Company's product for the year 1920 is sold. Present shipments are at the rate of $5,000,000 per annum. This financing provides for the expansion of the business, and on the production of only 1,000 tires per day, together with present production in the raincoat and water-proofing department, the net earnings should equal $600,000 per annum, which would provide over 25% on the Common, on which dividends have been paid at the rate of 7% during 1917 and 1918 and a dividend of 8% has been declared for 1919.

Having sold more than one-half of this issue of Preferred Stock through private subscriptions, we offer the unsold balance, subject to sale and change in price, at

A Dress Suit and a Shave Won't Do It

To be at your best, you must feel at your best. The man that is magnetic, popular, successful—is the one who radiates vigor and health. Nothing pulls a man down more surely—more insidiously—than constipation. The poisons arising from the decaying intestinal matter take the color out of your face and the "pep" from your stride. Keep clean—inside as well as out.

By an entirely new principle Nujol will keep the poisonous waste moving out of the body. Every other form of treatment either irritates or forces the system. Nujol works on the waste matter instead of on the system.

Nujol prevents constipation by keeping the food waste soft, thus helping Nature establish easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world.

It is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take—try it.

NEARLY A MILLION DOLLARS IS NEEDED TO WIDEN AND DEEPEN CHANNEL IN RIVER AND LAKE

Green Bay.—If the bill now before congress providing for river and harbor improvement is passed as drawn, the first step will be taken in an improvement of the Fox River canal routes.

The bill contains the first appropriation to improve the river so that it will provide for more complete navigation as far south as Portage, where a connection with the Wisconsin river route will be made as well as improvements to the Wolf river which will open that stream up to small boats as far as Shawano.

The project already recommended calls for a total expenditure of $749,103.36.

Only a portion of this amount is included in the present bill. It will start at a point just south of DePere and carry a six foot channel continuously until it reaches Montello with a four foot channel from that point to Portage. The total length of the proposed route will be 136 miles.

The report of the United States Engineer for 1918 gives the following outline of the project: "This provides for deepening and widening the channel of the Fox River from DePere, seven miles above its mouth, to Portage, a distance of 156 miles, the depth between DePere and Montello, 125 miles to be six feet, and from Montello to Portage, 31 miles, the depth to be four feet, the width of channel from Lake Winnebago to Montello to be 100 feet; for the construction and reconstruction of 27 locks and 16 dams; for construction and maintenance of harbors, wharves, and for dredging, snagging and otherwise improving the Wolf river from its mouth to New London, a distance of 47 miles, the depth to be four feet. All depths referred to are standard low water.

"The estimated cost for new work revised in 1908, is $749,103.36, exclusive of amounts expended under previous projects. The latest approved estimate for annual cost of maintenance is $10,000."

The Fox river Portage-Wisconsin river canal route carries with it some of the most important history of Wisconsin and the middle west. Before the advent of the railroads, the route carried all of the commerce and business of the entire territory adjacent to it. The early traffic was entirely by canoe and bateau.

The fall of the Fox river from Portage to Lake Winnebago is 39.3 feet while the fall between Lake Winnebago is 166 feet. To improve the streams many locks had to be constructed including large dams. This improvement made possible some high water power projects and this water power had brought to Wisconsin its great paper industry now existing along the lower Fox between Oshkosh and Green Bay.

The state first took up the improvement of the streams and built 32 locks and 11 dams. It provided

BLACK CAT CAUSES DEATH OF A BABY

Green Bay.—A black cat brought to the home for luck, is said to have brought death last week to a baby in the house. The cat slept in the crib and suffocated the child, it is said.

for a four foot channel between Green Bay and Portage.

In 1872, the United States assumed control of the entire canal and the amount spent prior to the project now recommended was $3,239,909.63 of which $591,161.39 was spent solely upon the Wisconsin river.

At present the channel is furnishing a large portion of the fuel supply of the cities along its route and boats and barges from Green Bay docks have carried several hundred thousand tons of coal up river during 1919.

New river barges have been constructed during the past year and the bulk of freight to be carried in 1920 will be much larger than in any previous year.

14 ELLINGTON COWS PRODUCE MORE THAN 40 POUNDS OF FAT

GRADE HOLSTEIN OWNED BY RAY LOHRENTZ HOLDS THE HIGH MARK—GUERNSEY HERD LEADING

Fourteen of the 366 cows in the Ellington Cow Testing association produced at least 40 pounds of butter fat during the month of December, according to the monthly report of Matthew Nelson, official tester, made public this morning. Maggie, a grade Holstein owned by Ray Lorentz ranked high with 1,660 pounds of milk and 61.4 pounds of butter fat. Her test was 3.7 per cent.

The herd of 14 grade guernseys owned by John Spear made the best herd record, producing an average of 546 pounds of milk and 26.5 pounds of butter fat.

Quite a number of cows freshened in December and as a result the report will show larger milk and butter fat production from now on. In November only nine cows produced more than 40 pounds of butter fat.

Of the 366 cows in the association 185 are grade holsteins, seven are pure bred holsteins, 122 are grade guernseys, 23 pure bred guernseys, 12 grade jerseys and 17 natives. All but two of the 26 members have pure bred sires. Twelve members have their barns equipped with water cups and 12 have electric lighting systems on the farms. Nine members separate the milk at home; eight are condensary patrons; 17 haul their milk to a cheese factory and one operates a sweet cream route in Appleton. Nine members own tractors.

The ten best herds in the association are:

rior, according to Indian fishermen who have worked the lake for decades. Members of the state legislature are being urged to take steps to conserve the supply and take steps to propagate this species.

Indian fishermen who put out their nets off the Bad River reservation, have declared that their catches of white fish never were so small. Herring and lake trout provide the biggest catches. Sturgeon are brought in occasionally and the once despised sucker which is common in Chequamegon bay, has provided at least 150,000 pounds of food this season.

FAREWELL GIFT IS GIVEN TO DR. CUSTER

LAWRENCE STUDENTS SHOW THEIR APPRECIATION OF PROFESSOR LEAVING INSTITUTION

Students of Lawrence college yesterday presented Dr. John S. Custer with a fine painting, "The Home of the Heroon," by Innes, as a token of their appreciation and a farewell gift. Dr. and Mrs. Custer will leave Wednesday for Akron, Ohio, where Dr. Custer will be one of a staff of five members of the educational department of the Goodyear Rubber company. Dr. Custer had been professor of history at Lawrence since 1913, except during the interval when he did Y. M. C. A. war work overseas, and during that time he has won the love and admiration of every student who came in contact with him, directly or indirectly. The 1915 Ariel was dedicated to him and expressed in words the general feeling of the student body. His final break with the college has called forth a great deal of feeling among the students and it was decided to make some material expression of their sentiment.

Dr. O. P. Fairfield, head of the art department selected the painting which was presented to Dr. Custer by Miss Marjorie Newton and Rexford Mitchell.

Two representatives of each church who have charge of the program at their church will attend the meeting. A father and son represents each church. EMBARGOES ON RAIL SHIPMENTS MAKE IN HARD FOR MILL MEN

CONGESTION OF FREIGHT AND SHORTAGE OF CARS MAKES RAIL TRANSPORTATION UNCERTAIN

Appleton manufacturers now are inconvenienced by embargoes nearly as much as they were during the war. There is an embargo on carload lots of practically all freight shipped east and on less than carload lots to Boston.

There is also an embargo out of Chicago on freight shipped over the Illinois Central. The embargoes are due principally to congestion which is nearly as bad as it was at any time during the war. The heavy fall of snow has also materially delayed traffic.

Just at present there is a shortage of freight cars which is not felt to any great extent in Appleton for the reason that the incoming freight about balances the outgoing, making it possible to reload the cars at once. The shortage of cars is pronounced in the northern part of the state, especially in the logging districts, but the famine is being relieved as rapidly as possible.

Oklahoma City, Okla.—Shippers of livestock, seed, oats, hay and cotton seed, are the most seriously affected by the inability of the railroads to move shipments promptly, according to railroad men.

Delay in moving this freight is due to a lack of locomotives rather than a shortage of cars. Trains fully loaded are often held in the yards several days awaiting necessary locomotive power. This occasionally causes a serious loss through deterioration and through fluctuations of the commodity market, shippers say.

The shortage of locomotives is caused by the eastern roads who are calling their engines back, according to H. C. Conley, assistant general freight agent of the Frisco. Many locomotives were rented to the southwest shortly after the government took over the roads. These roads started to take their equipment back about two months ago.

HIGHS WORKING HARD FOR GAME WITH ANTIGO

Coach Vincent's highs are getting ready for the battle with Antigo on Friday night. A fast and snappy practice was held yesterday, and the performance will be repeated daily until Thursday.

Antigo is not counted on to put any crimp in the locals' aspirations. The northerners have been showing improved form of late however, and may surprise the fans.

Appleton's record thus far is arousing considerable enthusiasm, and the biggest crowd of the season is expected to witness the contest.

KAUKAUNA DEFEATS THE JIMOS TEAM BY 8 PINS

Yellow Mustard for Sore Throat, Tonsillitis

Old fashioned remedies are often the best. Yellow Mustard, in the form of plaster or poultice, has been used for generations for soreness, inflammations, congestions and swellings with most excellent results but—it is blistered.

Heat eases pain and Begy's Mustardine made of pure yellow mustard, together with other pain relievers, is just as hot, but quicker, cleaner, and more effective and cannot blister.

When your throat is sore, when you have pleurisy, bronchitis or a pain-shooting chest cold you can get speedy and lasting relief with this most effective preparation because heat eases pain—30 and 60 cents at druggists or by mail, S. C. Wells & Co., LeRoy, N. Y.

BEGY'S MUSTARDINE THE YELLOW BOX

The Quick Way to Stop a Cough

This home-made syrup does the work in a hurry. Easily prepared, and saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Pour 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. The Pinex will make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly breaks the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for its healing effect on the membranes. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

CORN FUTURES WEAK ON CHICAGO BOARD

GENERAL PESSIMISM AMONG TRADERS TENDS TO DEPRESS PRICES ON ALL FUTURES.

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago. — Corn futures opened weak on the Chicago board of trade today, general pessimism among traders regarding the foreign export outlook being a slump in demand. Oats suffered a slump when eastern shippers, unable to secure cars, resold recent purchases.

February corn opened late at $1.43 1/2, unchanged, and held to that figure in later trading. March corn opened late at $1.41 1/2, up 1/4, and maintained that figure later.

May corn slumped 3/4 at the opening, $1.35 1/2, but later recovered 1/2 through the jump of 1/2 to 1c in cash corn operations.

July corn opened 1/4 off at $1.32 1/2 and later lost 1/4 additional. July oats opened 1/4 up at 76c but slumped 1/2 in later trading when eastern shippers began to unload.

Provisions were lower.

Dr. Kinsman in his address advocated the adoption of the covenant. "The league has a double function," he said, "to prevent war and to promote the general welfare of the members and mankind in general." Dr. Kinsman emphasized the fact that the covenant applies to external and not internal affairs of the nations involved; that not matters within the country, but only foreign relations are affected by membership in the league. Dr. Kinsman took the place of Dr. Samuel Planitz who was unable to be present. Only six ministers were in attendance.

HINES GIVES FINAL ANSWER TO RAILMEN

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—Rail Director Hines today laid before representatives of the railway employes unions the government's final answer to their demands for higher wages.

The text of Hines' answer was not disclosed, but it was understood he suggested three alternatives as a basis of settlement. Conferees said there had been an interchange of views but no agreement had been reached.

GRONNA WOULD ABOLISH WHEAT PRICE GUARANTEES

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—Senator Gronna, N. Dakota, today introduced a bill to abolish the grain corporation and government buying and selling of wheat and terminate the wheat price guarantee.

Gronna declared in introducing the bill that government interference with wheat has cost the farmers $2,000,000,000. He will urge the agriculture committee to take up the bill at once.

Much of the "unrest" among farmers spoken of the other day by officials of the postoffice department in connection with a questionnaire they sent out, is traceable, Gronna said, to government interference with natural laws.

Patients are occupying every available room at St. Elizabeth hospital, and temporarily no more cases are being accepted. Between 70 and 80 patients are now at the hospital.

The large number of emergency cases being received are responsible for the crowded conditions. Influenza and pneumonia cases are having little effect on the number of patients.

BRITAIN IS NOT ALARMED AT U. S. STAND ON LOANS

GOVERNMENT WARNS PEOPLE NOT TO BE EXCITED DESPITE CHIEFS OF THE JINGO PRESS

By Webb Miller
By United Press Leased Wire

London—America's refusal to take Europe's financial burdens is not causing apprehension in British government circles despite the vehement outbursts in a section of the press. It was learned authoritatively today.

British officials, while regretting America's delay in ratification of the peace treaty were confident that the United States will eventually become a party to the Versailles pact and the league of nations.

The present situation, they pointed out, is much the same as that existing before the United States entered the war. The plight of Europe, especially her smaller nations, officials said, could well be compared to the days preceding America's war declaration. Only now, instead of German militarism, it is financial ruin that threatens.

The position of Great Britain, officials said frankly, was far better than it was in the pre-American war days. "The jingoism in a section of the press, said, was not representative of the government."

Secretary Glass' letter, in substance, telling Europe to "get to work" has met praise in many quarters. It was pointed out.

Great Britain realizes officials said, the time for charity has passed and that hard work, self-sacrifice and reliance upon the basic economic laws is Europe's only solution for her present situation.

Financial points out the bugbear of bolshevism no longer is being used as an argument for rushing financial assistance to the embryonic republics which are threatened. Even government officials they said, now are demanding reasonable securities for funds disbursed, while private capital is getting an ear to its demand for a free hand and restoration of pre-war prerogatives, which business men consider necessary before the law of supply and demand can become operative.

Representatives of one school of economists even went so far as to say the present exchange situation will be found beneficial to Great Britain inasmuch as in adversity, to a certain extent, desirable to teach economy and the fallacy of the tendency toward a business attitude of "England never allies."

DRAFT DEFENDANTS TO SIT ON BISBEE JURY

Eight Men Up for Jury Examination Are Found to be Defendants in Kidnapping Case—Much Wealth Represented.

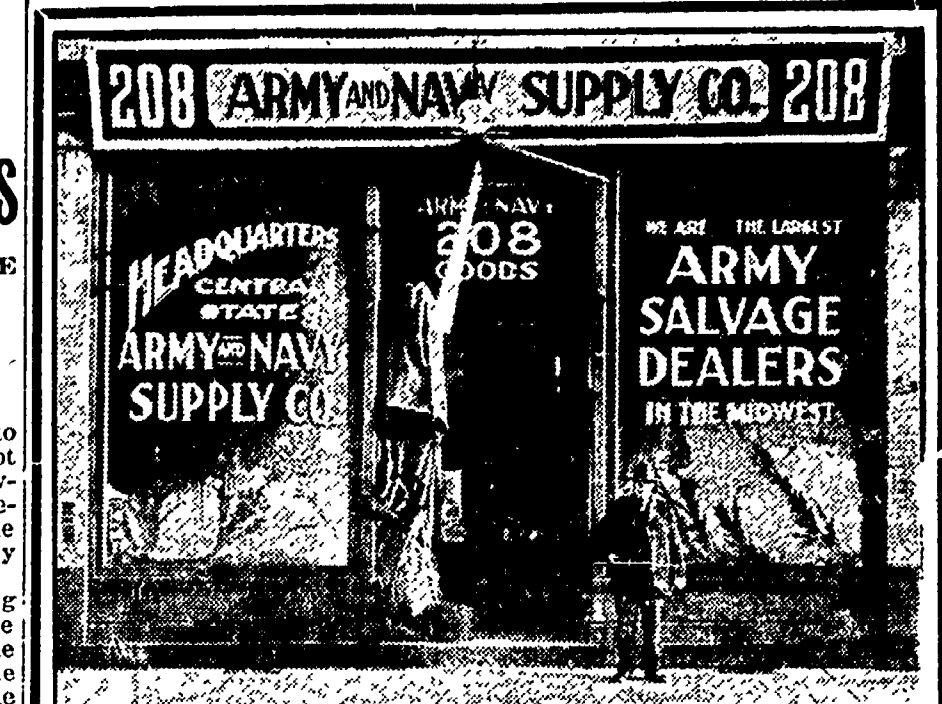

(By M. D. Tracy.)
By United Press Leased Wire

Tombstone, Ariz.—Eight "jurors for the defense" were dropped from the jury list in the Bisbee deportation trial here today. Named for the panel in the trial of 324 Bisbee men charged with kidnapping alleged I. W. W.'s it was learned the eight men were defendants as well as jurors.

Court officials got off with a reputation for their oversight.

Attorneys for both sides jockeyed for position today. Whether a blanket indictment against 150 men or individual indictments will be taken up first was the cause for argument.

The court convened in a corner of the wild west. Among defendants, jurors and spectators there were scattered all the types admired by the writers of fiction. Miners, millionaires, traders and drifters were among them.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF A POLICY OF SPECIALIZATION

SINCE the first of the year we have discontinued our entire line of men's heavy shoes and rubbers; also children's and boys' shoes. This move puts us in a position to specialize in ladies' and men's fine shoes only. Every year has seen many people going out of town to get fitted in shoes when if proper sizes were carried their needs could be easily taken care of at home. This however is practically impossible if a store carries every thing from children's shoes to hi-top boots especially considering the price of today.

Beginning this month this store will be a specialty store for ladies and men's fine shoes—it will be the only store in Wisconsin outside of Milwaukee which will concentrate on these two lines only.

We will offer a fitting service hard to equal. In ladies' shoes widths will be carried from quadruple A to D. In men's triple A to EE. In addition a greater number of combination sizes will be featured. These sizes and personal attention will assure real foot comfort.

The best of workmanship in America will be shown featuring many well known brands. Styles that are new will be shown before they become old in the cities. Full line of spring low shoes, pumps and oxfords now on display.

Concentration means a cutting down of our head expense and more business along these lines which means larger buying and that means greater opportunities with factory lines.
